Quality Grain Services News

In the newsletter that we sent out last fall we mentioned that we were setting a goal of passing one million bushels of grain through our drying system this year. Well, here at Quality Grain Services we are very proud to say that we not only met our goal- we shattered it! This season we managed to dry a total of 1.3 million bushels of corn, and while this was more than we had expected, we managed not to turn anyone away. We did everything we could to keep the dumping lines short. However, we would like to thank those of you who waited on the few days that the lines did get a bit long.

For those of that came to QGS when you where sent away from other facilities because they were full, we hope that you realize that we are here for all of your drying and storage needs! While things may become rather chaotic at times, we do our best to keep the lines moving and the pit running. We're sure many of you realized this, as we ended up piling wet corn on the ground until it could be dried. Everything worked out well with this wet corn, and we dried it after the lines slowed down.

The New Look

Traffic on the Quality Grain Services website has been busier than ever! It has been great for us to see visitors streaming in and nice to know that you are finding the website useful.

However, the time has finally come for qualitygrainservices.com to undergo a complete renovation! After construction on the website has been completed we hope to have added a few new features. We are expecting that they will be useful for everyone!

Hopefully the new website will be easier for you to navigate and understand. We are trying to simplify qualitygrainservices.com with the hopes that it is now going to be much more user-friendly. Plus, In order to add to your online experience, we are also adding a few completely new areas to the site.

One new page that we are planning on featuring on the website is going to be an online listing of items and equipment that are currently for sale both by QGS and our customers. We are allowing you, our customers, to list any equipment or other items that you would like to sell on this page, and allowing our traffic to help you sell your items. If you choose to add an item to the listing we will display an image, your phone number, and a few other details to help sell your equipment. With digital cameras and e-mail we expect this new featured page to be very helpful, and hopefully the added exposure of our 150 to 200 hits per week will let you sell your equipment quickly! Visit the QGS homepage and click the button featuring the listings to get started.

We are also going to be adding a new section of the website called 'News From Jeff'. Just like our newsletter, the new webpage will have an area for Jeff to write information or notes to qualitygrainservices.com visitors about everything from the weather to our current grain prices. Check out the homepage to read what his latest blog has to say!

As always, everyone here at Quality Grain Services loves to hear your feedback and questions regarding the website. Feel free to take advantage of our contact forms to let us know what you're thinking, and make sure you keep an eye out for the new changes to give us your reactions!

QGS Sign Addition

We are adding another piece to our Quality Grain Services sign that is located on Highway 64. Currently the sign consists of the Quality Grain Services logo and business information, but we plan to add another part to it featuring our seed sales.

While many of you know that Quality Grain Services is a seed dealer, there are still many of our customers that don't realize we offer the service. Therefore, we hope the addition of the sign will help get word around.

In addition to the changes to our sign, QGS is also going to be featuring a new research plot in the field nearby. The field is right next to the sign, and we would like to welcome anyone to stop and check it out! Hopefully the research plot will give everyone a bit of useful information, and after harvest we plan to post yield results on the website for you to see.

Also, we would like to note that we don't travel around the countryside to sell you seed, but that all you need to do to get a quote from us is give QGS a call! We can quote prices for you over the phone and try to give you other useful information.

News From Jeff

What a change from only a few months ago! Corn is currently around $3.50 per bushel and soybeans are around $8.50 per bushel. These numbers are approximately half of what they were 6 months ago. Congratulations to those that were able to take advantage of the situation, hopefully there will be some higher prices in the near future for the rest of us!

I would like to take a moment to say thank you to all of our customers that bought grain over the past year. After all, without you we would not be where we are today! In the midst of all the hustle in the fall we sometimes forget to say thank you, but we are very thankful, and would appreciate your return business! Hopefully you will even recommend us to your neighbors and friends.

Lastly, make sure you remember to check out our progress as a business! Our newsletters, construction projects, and so much more are always being updated on the website for you to follow.
